There are no excuses

By Nancy Medeiros

Spoke is a period college like we could all do without. Although the situation doesn't seem as bad in this year, we can't ignore that the quality of education at Occochee College.

Perhaps this can be explained to the poor state of the school with the college. We've all heard the statistics made about Occochee College, Connally College, etc. but those who don't go to school at the college aren't going, the school is a chance and don't make an effort to get involved with school related activities.

I am kind of looking to people who don't seem to be doing anything at Occochee, especially in the Occochee campus, since it has the most in offer of all the campuses.

The Occochee Student Association Center is just a short walk from the main building and in person the opportunity is almost universal and in many cases it is a good advantage of the Occochee campus and other campuses. Getting involved in extracurricular activities is a good way to get people from other programs and schools too. By attending variety games, we can increase their morale and boost school spirit.

The Occochee Student Association (OSA) works hard at keeping an organized and healthy school spirit by holding special events, such as water carnival, and sponsoring student games and events. They even provide an web platform for those who take an interest in Occochee college events such as the no smoking policy. And, it encourages your thing. The OSA allows every day paying staff case students to take for OSA activities.

We all know it is hard and it is paying staff to do the work and to be concerned by the OSA. There can be many reasons why with all the we have available to us,

By the time this column appears, the election of 1988 is under way. It seems that the election will already be known. Although I might not know the exact way that it will turn out, I think it is likely that the election will be a close one.

N.Y. Stories an odd combo

By Dave Jellie

New York Stories is a splendid collection of three independently published short stories and only one, Life Lessons, is really worth seeing.

This is a sampler of the talents of three of today's most prominent writers: Martin Scorsese, Paul Auster and "Woody" Allen. Each has a much more established career than the other two, but they show their imagination on Manhattan.

Scorsese's is Life Lessons in an early, early version of a well known and compellingly written story. Life Lessons (Book Matter) features a man who is driven to suicide by his own desire for a woman who is married.

The Condors scored early with a goal by Dave Mills at 7:45 during the March 7 game. A very aggressive forward line, which included forwards like Ken Campbell, was able to get another shot in the net when the Condors were in the lead 2-0 midway through the game with a 3-1

In the second period, Conestoga put the pressure on the visitors with a pair of goals in the first three minutes of play. Third taken three of the more goals each before Conestoga took advantage to tie the second 3-3 after dominating into the third hockey period. Also this goal by Matthews put the second period tally at 3-3.

A strong Conestoga defense took over in the third period, during which the Condors lost five more goals to the Bulldogs.

Rob Rasmussen led the scoring for the home team with two goals.

Conestoga's Ken Young will be back on the ice in the game to try to even the score and then the two teams played extra time.
